Bringing Recovery Supports to Scale

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE CENTER STRATEGY

Daryl M. McGraw is the founder and president of Formerly Inc. His skills include policy development, contract management, and project coordination, and he collaborates with grassroots peer-advocacy agencies and the Connecticut Department of Corrections. Mr. McGraw is the former Program Director for the Yale University Department of Psychiatry. In this role, he served as the Director of the Office of Recovery Community Affairs for Connecticut's Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services. Mr. McGraw holds state certifications as an addictions counselor, recovery support specialist, and criminal justice professional. He holds a bachelor's degree in human services and a master's degree in organizational management and leadership, both from Springfield College. Before entering the human service field, Mr. McGraw held leadership positions in the hospitality field working for Fortune 500 companies. His work on behalf of battling addiction and overcoming obstacles facing ex-offenders upon their release from prison is truly inspiring, and as a result, he is in high demand to speak in a variety of settings including university campuses, correctional facilities, behavioral health organizations, and at national conferences. As a leadership consultant, Mr. McGraw inspires cultural competency and challenges organizations to move away from the status quo.
